Free Renewable Energy workshop set for December 16

Shawano, WI. - The “Building Communities Webinar Educational Series” being offered by UW-Extension, in cooperation with SCEPI, continues on Tuesday, December 16 with a one hour FREE workshop on “Renewable Energy Strategies.” The workshop is for businesses and local governments who are seeking innovative and cost-efficient methods to reduce their energy costs. The December 16 workshop will run from 11:30AM - 12:30PM at the Shawano County Courthouse at 311 N. Main Street in Shawano in basement meeting rooms A & B. Lunch will be available.

Renewable energy is part of a strategic approach to energy consumption that can reduce carbon emissions, improve energy reliability and may protect against escalating fuel costs. Attendees will learn how they, as government and business leaders, can act strategically to get the most out of their energy investments.

The workshop will examine the renewable energy technologies that are available today and how one can choose options that will work best for your business or community. Attending the workshop can help you answer questions such as; is it affordable? Who are the service providers in my area and how do I find them? How do I proceed and investigate which are our best options to pursue? What other renewable energy installations are already operating in our area?

This workshop, sponsored by UW-Extension & Shawano County Economic Progress, Inc., is a national webinar, available in Shawano and available at no cost to Shawano County citizens.

Don't miss the FREE “Renewable Energy Strategies” Workshop for Businesses and Local Governments. Register today! There's no cost to attend and lunch will be available. To register, please contact UW-Extension at 715-526-6136 or via email at jay.moynihan@ces.uwex.edu.
