Multicultural Coalition, Inc. hosts free Health and Resource Event at Klinkner Park in Chilton

*Translated information, bilingual community members and experts onsite
Free masks and information regarding air quality available*

WHAT

A free health and resource event is being held to increase barrier-free access to services and programs available to those in Calumet County.

This event is being hosted by Multicultural Coalition, Inc. (MCI), a non-profit with the vision to improve the lives of all by creating a community that prospers together. MCI hosted a similar event at the Chilton Public Library in March which was well attended.

Families and individuals are invited to come to the event which will feature free snacks, masks and diapers, community resources, literature in various languages and more. Spanish-speaking interpreters will be on site to help community members learn about the programs and resources available to them. A focus on air quality information and masks will also be available.

Groups such as Multicultural Coalition, Inc., Partnership Community Health Center, NEW Hmong Professionals, Pointtters Community Initiatives, Chilton Public Library, Calumet County Public Health, Ascension, Harbor House, ESTHER, Community Action for Health Living, Inc.'s REACH program, Samaritan Fox Valley, Reach Counseling and Premier Credit Union will be in attendance.
